

Dealing with Disappointment

What are times when you've been disappointed?

How do you react to setbacks, losses, and other letdowns?

What are important strategies to help you deal with disappointment?

In what ways can disappointment be a GOOD thing?

