

Test Time

A few cartoons that pay tribute to the lighter side of tests and test-taking...

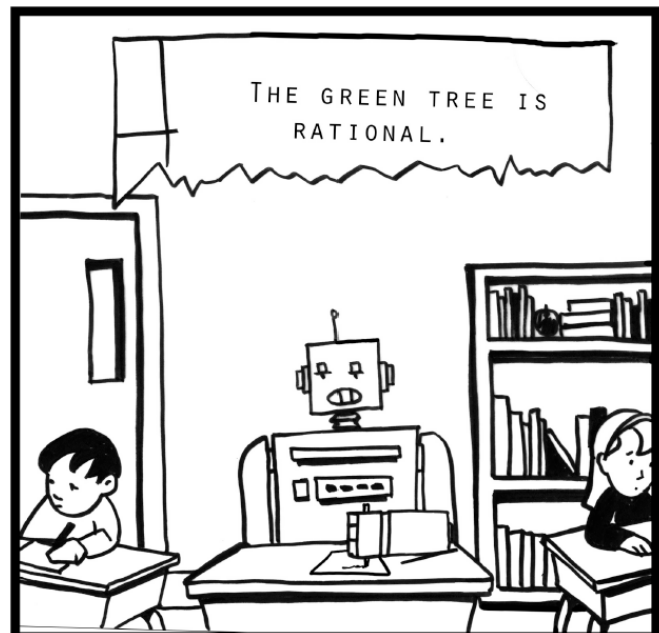

"Well, everyone can probably guess who aced the test."

"That's impressive James, but this is an essay test."

"How am I supposed to know the answers to these questions? They all happened before I was born!"

For some strange reason, Robotico always seemed to ace the math and science portions of the test, but he struggled with the creative writing.
